Mac & Susan's Carribean Dreams - by roving reporter, Rob Bates

The WZZ met at Mac and Susan's house last month. They are both well and ready to party, er, "Meet" again thankfully. Some 20 odd (and not so odd) WZZers Showed up to sample Mac's excellent Gumbo. The argument raged, well maybe not "raged" but occurred...debating whether it should, or should not have had the "slime vegetable" (okra). I prefer a slimier version of gumbo, but it was alas, "unokra'ed", but excellent nonetheless.

Carribean beer was there (Red Stripe), as well as a host of other Carribean drinks like Martinis and Belgian Ales (!). Susan's very excellent fresh pineapple/mango salsa and other fine tropical gustables were there in abundance as well. Darts was the game of the night.

Tom wasn't there, and neither was John Tull, but John Bruno was.....and.....blah, blah, blah.

This Month

Beer & Food with Whitbeck

As in the past, Chris has challenged everyone to be creative in their cooking with beer, and to showcase that creativity at his house on the 10th. (A quick search using the term 'beer' on epicurious.com turned up 117 recipes!)

Upcoming Events

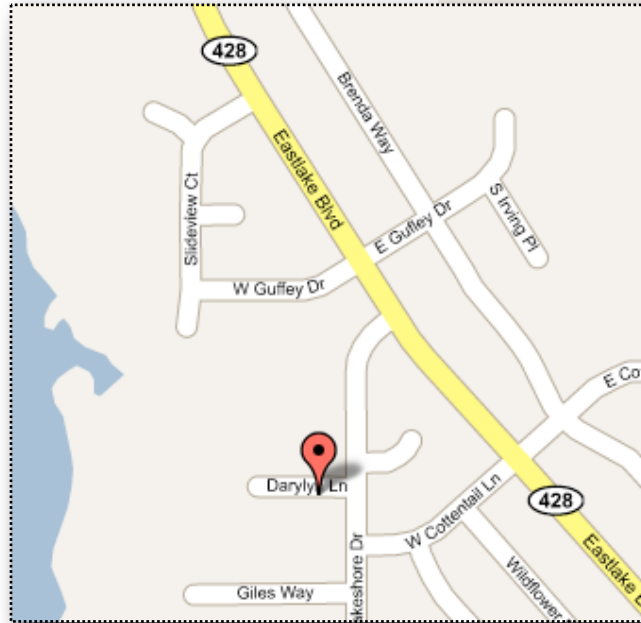

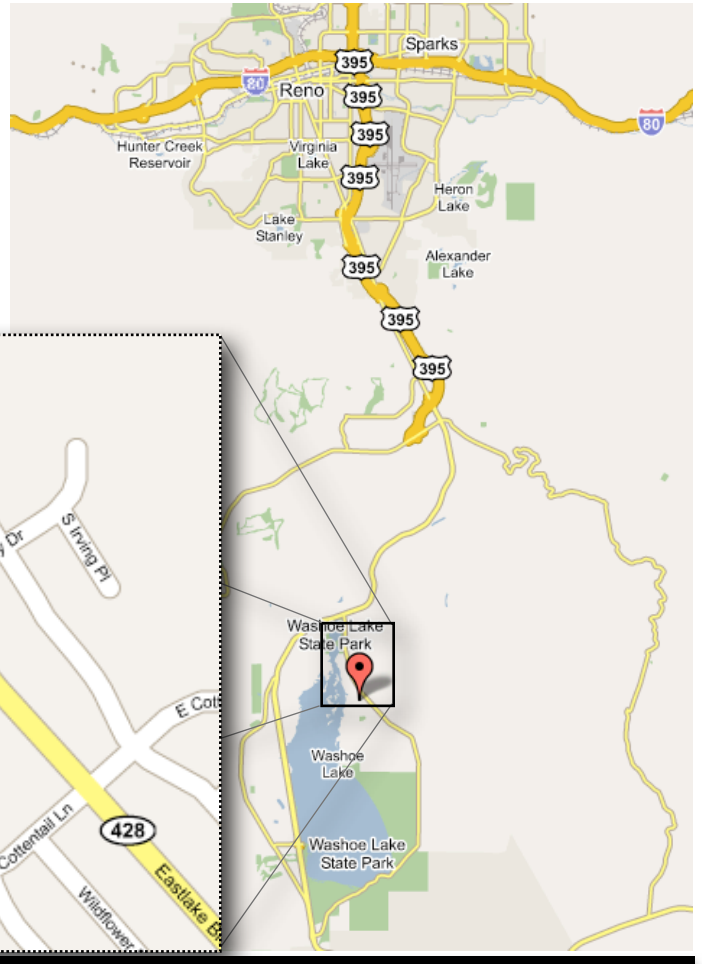

I have once again agreed to help out with the AHA National Homebrew Competition this year. That means that I have volunteered many of you to help out as well! That means that we will have a judging event for the NHC here in the Truckee Meadows! In fact, Tom Young has graciously offered, with only minor arm-twisting, to host us at Great Basin Brewing at 9 AM on the 15th of April. I hope that everyone with judging experience, especially you BJCP folks, will mark you calendars for this event! It should be a lot of fun.
