Dead White Guys: John & Marlene's

Marlene and I had a great time hosting the annual event at our place. Turn-out was good, and there was a lot of great food and beverage. Thanks to everyone who made it out. We look forward to the same next year.

This Month

Mike and Sabine are playing host to a true Oktoberfest celebration beginning at 4 pm with dinner at 6. As usual, bring some food and beer, preferably German-style products. See their invitation below for all the details. Remember to RSVP ASAP. (I think "S & M" ranch refers to first names, but...?) Note the ban on children and dogs.

Bubbling to the top

Note that the NCHF will be held on 5-6 October this year. You can register online nowadays at nchfinfo.org/register.html. If you have not already registered, do not expect a ticket for the dinner on Friday night as they are sold out already. Regardless, it will still be a fun event, especially with all the great prep that Elaine has put into this, including organizing a pancake breakfast on Saturday for club folks! It should be top notch this year. Below are her comments on the event and planning that were included in the last newsletter as well:

Contributed by Elaine Bates: Plans are well underway for the WZZ to take the NCHF by storm (of wild yeast). We have "bio-hazard" WZZ stickers ordered that all WZZers will be given to "attack" the attendees. We will have appropriate head gear complete with "biohazard" overalls. Kevin and Elaine will be creating stencils to appropriately identify our WZZ attire.

On Saturday morning, plan to come down to the WZZ site on the festival grounds for breakfast. BYOS (bring your own seat, as in chair). The club will be renting propane grills and cooking breakfast for all WZZ attendees (only - no outside guests; bacon, sausage, fruit, juice and pancakes with agave syrup). Our friends from the Austin, Texas homebrew shop had such a good time with us (the WZZ) at the HWBTA conference BBQ and mead tasting events that they sent us a thank you gift of a gallon of agave syrup! Some of us tasted it a few weeks ago, decided it would be great with pancakes and, thus, this breakfast idea was born.

We need to get a count of how many WZZers will be attending the NCHF so we can purchase enough breakfast stuff. Please sign up with Rob at the shop. This breakfast will be a great way for all WZZers to assist in the setting up of the WZZ booth and get all our libations, iced and on tap, and for some of us to recover from the stupendous Friday night dinner. (Does anyone besides me give up before the second entree?)
